Dear Eric:

This is just to say thanks for the hospitality, to say sorry that we didn't get to talk more thoroughly than we did, and to apologize for my parting words. On the way back, Dave explained that the book situation was precisely as you had described it, that you could not give the new books away, and that you had already tried to get them released. My humble sorry's.

There were all sorts of things I wanted to talk about in the way of ideas for teenagers, etc. I wanted to hear more from you about settlement-house concept v. others, and other things to ponder over. Also, I wanted to talk about the training institute for local people to be held in December and/or early January. I'm not sure just what the situation is, but it will be a pretty intensive course on cc problems, and cc programs covering 6 weeks. Lorne Kress is recruiting people for it, and I think you have probably already heard about it. I just wanted to talk to you to find out if there were any people in the community whom you would like to see attend the session. The emphasis will be in administrative matters, in recreation programs and in day care, although nothing is definite yet. The man who is running the institute would like two people from each project location. If you and Elaine do in fact get the place on the South side, ~~xxx~~ and get local people to organize the nursery classes, I would like to see you work on getting somebody to attend. As I said Lorne has been contacting people already, and you will undoubtedly hear more.

Thanks again for the nice visit. Hope to see you soon--at New Orleans at any rate.

Yours truly,

Lois
