Cleveland, Miss.

Dear Mr. Moore:

I was sorry to hear from John Bradford today that there is still trouble with those Small Business Administration applications. What I found out is that there is no formal application form. They gave us several of the enclosed "SOV-Form 71" sheets, and explained that an applicant for a loan should prepare all the information on the sheet and then see a Small Business Admin "Circuit Rider" (Their term for field secretaries, I think) at one of the three field offices (Greenwood is the only office in the Delta). We got a schedule for the Circuit Rider's visits to Greenwood, and I'm sending it to you along with the Form 71. After the applicant talks to the Circuit Rider, the man informs him about the appropriate kind of loan to apply for, and gives him the application forms that he needs at that time.

I hope that they were not giving us the run-around. It sounded pretty complicated to me, but I didn't see any reason to challenge his statement, and they were very nice about giving us the mimeographed instructions, etc. I hope that this ~~xxxxxx~~ will suit your needs.

Yours truly,

Lois Chaffee

(Miss) Lois Chaffee

P.S. Cynthia had a talk with Abe Osheroff and he is interested in the center in Cleveland. I'm sure you know more of the details about it than I do, and I hope that solves the problems with money, because he knows where an awful lot of money is.
