Dear Lucy:

Thanks for your June 26 letters. Connie is in Nashville presenting a scholarship award for the Race Relations Institute and will no doubt answer your letter in more detail when he returns.

I have no strong feelings about Tom Ludwig in connection with our project and am agreeable to anyone we can find who is interested and capable.

I am primarily concerned in getting you down for a least a day during the White Community Projects Workshop starting July 26. It is terribly important that you be here. In addition to the people connected with the Appalachian Conference, there will be representatives from ERAP and people like Courtland Cox who is interested in working on a North-South relationship having to do with white communities.

I am also hopeful of getting representatives from Arkansas, where I understand they are planning to organize in the Ozarks.

Do plan to spend as much time as possible here.

Cordially,

Myles F. Horton
