Dear Judy,

Would you please send us three copies of the Freedom Primer. As we are a new office, we haven't received any copies from you. Also, if you haven't yet done so, the Canton office would like 3 sample copies -- send them to Rims Barber, c/o Canton COFO, 332 Lutz St., Canton, Miss. Canton didn't receive any in the original mailing, and Rims was going to write to you, but I don't know if he got around to it.

I did get a chance to read the Primer quickly and was impressed. I'll try to look it over more carefully and also to get opinions from the local people about it.

I don't know if you're also in charge of literacy programs. If there is someone else involved, would you please pass this on to them. We would like information on methods of teaching adults to read and write, particularly, of course, those methods that have been found most successful. Do you know if the Initial Teaching Alphabet has been tried here? What about Programmed Reading, Sullivan Associates (from McGraw-Hill)?

Finally, will you please let us know of any future school programs that are planned.

Thank you for your attention.

Yours in the struggle,

Lynne Hollander
Office Manager
