Dear Amzie:

A couple of days ago I received a letter from Charles McLaurin. He writes of the very severe financial plight he is in. He seems to have the understanding that we have turned down his application. Would you please explain how it is about his application. I can see how he would not want to promise to pay a stipulated amount to Mrs. Hamer to get her signature. We will accept the application and consider it if it has yours and Mr. Rash's signature on it.

I sent you a copy of Ebony. There's an article in it by a professor discussing the role of the white student in the freedom movement in the south. I would be interested sometime in getting your reaction to it. Certainly some of what he said is true but I wonder at his making such sweeping generalizations about all of the white young people.

I hope you are functioning OK, healthwise, and that you are having a luck in getting more money for your Headstart program.

As ever,

Mac
